Discover Maison Valentina world

It is the first time of Maison Valentina at Cersaie and the brand will be exhibiting new products and sharing its beliefs about luxury bathrooms and functionality.

“With the debut of the brand at the fair, our main goal for the creation of this stand was to be able to convey the values of Maison Valentina, through different environments and styles, with the design of each of the products / families present” says the head designer of the brand.

For this edition of Cersaie, Maison Valentina will have new products that have never been seen before as well as new products launched this year, as the Symphony Oval bathtub and Huang Suspension Cabinet. Regarding the main surprises, we would only reveal one thing: their names - Diamond Suspension Cabinet and Diamond Vessel Sink in marble emperador.

Marble and gold are going to be on the main environments; however, the brand is going to show how it can perfectly integrate with different designs and inspirations, from mid-century to contemporary and modern style.

At this time of the year, Bologna is transformed into an international convention centre, where architects from all over the world have the opportunity to experience unique professional experiences. How can you miss this?
